GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

After trying in vain to induce the Newport racing officials to surrender a portion of their claimed dates for the benefit of the Lexington track, J. Hull Davidson, in behalf of the Kentucky Association, has announced that Lexington will "parallel" Newport, racing to begin there the same day it opens at Newport and continue just as long as it does at the latter place but only on alternate days. In addition he suggests that the Kentucky legislature will probably be asked to pass a bill limiting the length of race meetings. The controversy is unfortunate and should be avoided but if the outcome should be such a law it would be beneficial in results. Mr. Davidson is somewhat to blame for not attending the meeting that apportioned dates, or at least having some one there to represent Lexington, in which case he would have secured satisfactory dates.

Tod Sloan is full of verbal wisdom about the American horses in England. Tod usually issues all the wisdom within him in gusts. He declares that the Lorillard-Beresford combination expects to have an early lot ripe for the Newmarket Craven meeting in April. Those entered include Pascola, Chinook and Illogie. For the spring meeting at Newmarket the stable is preparing Astral, Berzak, Meta II and Ramee, and for later meetings at the metropolis of the British turf and elsewhere the stable has entered, in addition to the horses already named, Violence, Dominie II, Solano, Carman, Sardonie, the chestnut colt by Sensation—Equality, the chestnut colt by Locohatchie—Coryphee, Sibola, Boomer, Myakka, Bloozen, Doric II, Jolly Tar, the chestnut colt by Sensation—Salutation, the chestnut colt by Pontiac—Joy, Sandia, Bayard II, Maori Queen II, Belisama, Nunsuch, Diakka, the chestnut colt by Sensation—Magnetizer, the bay colt by Pontiac—Ynonda, and others.

As regards the Keene string, Sloan says Voter is wintering very well and should come to hand early. Voter was not so seriously sick as was reported after his arrival in England last fall, and Trainer Pincus expects to have him ready for the Lincolnshire Handicap, the first important event on the English calendar. Voter is also entered for the Metropolitan Handicap at Alexandra Park and as it was in a similarly named event that the colt made his big reputation at Morris Park last spring, there is a chance for history to repeat itself. St. Cloud II is rounding into one of the biggest and most promising four-year-olds abroad, while the stable also counts on Uriel and Black Cock as well as the lot of recruits expected to arrive from this side next month.

Sloan further says the knowing ones around the training quarters make favorable mention of Richard Croker's young candidates, Rosina W., Sweet Chimes, and Knickerbocker, and that considerable curiosity was aroused by the re-entry of Dobbins after two seasons' retirement. Whether the latter will stand a "prep" is a matter of pure conjecture, but should he accept for the Gold Cup at Ascot and the City and Suburban at Epsom he is likely to have a following. Rosina W. and Sweet Chimes are entered for the Coventry Stakes over the T. Y. C. at Ascot, and Knickerbocker for the Champagne Stakes at the Bibury Club meeting. J. S. Curtis' horses in England are Archduke II., Indian Chief II., and Pearl Rover. They are entered at Ascot and Kempton Park.

AT THE STARTER'S POST.

Jockey "Tod" Sloan has been a very extensively interviewed personage since his arrival from England last week. Columns have been published in the New York newspapers giving his impressions and opinions wise or otherwise. No doubt he has been made responsible for much that he did not say. However, Sloan was impressively successful in England, and being an intelligent man has been amply qualified to present some really interesting and instructive descriptions of features of the English turf. One point he made in connection with English racing was this:

"While right on this line, I want to say a word as to the general high class of the racing officials in England. Everything is on a thoroughly square and fair basis, and there is no question of decisions in any event. The starter is a gentleman, and that means a good deal more over there, so far as the general interest is concerned, than in America. There is no argument or squabble with the jockeys at the post, as seen here. Every horse has his position, and he must start from there. There is no cutting across and far fewer fouls than we have in America.

"I suppose the discipline in England is more strict, but everything works so smoothly that it does not appear to be so at all. The matter of starting is conducted so easily and harmoniously that it is a revelation to an American racing man. The starter has absolute control of the jockeys, and, to give an example, there was not a jockey fined or suspended in all the time I was riding there. I did not even hear a jockey's name mentioned by the starter, and when one's name is called it usually means a fine there. The horses are not at the post over five minutes as a usual thing, and there is no 'monkey business' at all."

It is regrettable that the same commentary cannot be made on the starting department of racing in this country, but a starter who does not fine and suspend jockeys, scold and shout at jockeys, and now and then swear at and apply foul epithets to jockeys, nay, even lash an occasional offending boy, is in truth a rare bird in our land. It is true that the more extreme actions enumerated are generally reserved for the back stretch and other starting points remote from the immediate vicinity of the great mass of spectators. But no one who is intimately familiar with the details of our system of racing can fail to be painfully aware of the really scandalous lack of dignity and ordinary courtesy that characterizes the conduct of nearly all our starters when discharging their functions at the starting post. To this is due the other well-known fact that the majority of our jockeys are unruly, disrespectful and, as a rule, seek to obtain unfair advantages, while at the post. Altogether the situation here is one as widely variant from that depicted by Sloan as can well be imagined.

It is not a situation beyond cure, however. Some day we will have rule makers who will provide the remedy. For one thing owners who instruct their jockeys to "get off in front," regardless of the starter's authority, will be heavily fined or suspended regardless of their degree of importance or wealth. For another, jockeys, who are disobedient and ill-behaved, will be punished with absolute certainty, whether stable boys or high salaried celebrities. And for still another, starters, who do not conduct themselves with dignity in the discharge of their duties, will be provided with successors who will.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Harry Forsland, the representative of DAILY RACING FORM, is authority for the statement that Bookmaker Frank Eckert stands willing to back Dr. Sharp against Lord Marmion, rigged as they were in Thursday's race, for any amount from $500 to $10,000. It is said Owner MacManus is of an adverse opinion, and there should be no difficulty in arranging a match. It would be a big drawing card.—San Francisco Breeder and Sportsman.

Barney Schreiber is still adding to his stock of broodmares for Woodlands. He recently bought in California of Albert Joseph, Grand Lady, bay mare, foaled 1891, by Grandmaster—Fine Lady, by Darebin; Prize, bay mare, foaled 1890, by Cheviot—Sister to Lottery, by Monday, and Florence Dickey, chestnut mare, foaled 1891, by Springbok—Zulite, by Lisbon.

There is not a more acute turfman in America than Louis Ezell. His win of two Oakland purses with the small Luke Blackburn—Tommie Bell filly, Buena Ventura, which he bought at the Belle Meade sale last year for $275, is said to be due to her training under Ezell's own barrier on his miniature track near Ingleside.

London Truth of January 13 says: "The American horse Voter is a great tip for the Lincolnshire Handicap, and it is believed at Newmarket that he is a very smart animal over a mile. Voter has also been entered for the Kempton Park Jubilee Handicap."

Jockey A. Thompson, who once rode for H. Eugene Leigh and who had his leg cut off by a street sprinkling cart in Sheffield, Ind., some time since, has entirely recovered. He now has a cork leg and expects to ride again this season as well as he ever could.

A local man, M. B. Boyle, is said to contemplate establishing at the Harlem track when the racing season opens an apparatus for giving horses various kinds of baths, such as Turkish, Russian and vapor.

John C. Carr, one of Guttenburg's "Big Four" is the latest aspirant for the position of starter on the Metropolitan tracks.

Daily Racing Form in San Francisco.

Readers of DAILY RACING FORM in San Francisco can get the paper regularly from Foster & Orear, Ferry Building, foot of Market Street.

OAKLEY'S STAKE EVENTS.

The one peculiar condition of seven of the Oakley stakes advertised in this issue of DAILY RACING FORM is that entrance is free. Four, the Diamond, Sapphire, Emerald and Moerlein are for decision at the Oakley spring meeting, and three, the Pearl, Garnet and Gem at the fall meeting. Entries to all close February 1. The advantage claimed for the free entrance features is that thereby owners can nominate any number of horses and when the time for declaration arrives, can, without having incurred any expense for forfeits, strike out all that have not shown form enough to justify their being left in. This is a liberal provision. Its practical working will be observed with interest by horse owners and racing officials.

The Oakley Derby, Cincinnati Oaks and Buckeye Stakes for 1899 are also presented for the consideration of horse owners. They are among the most important and valuable stakes of the western turf and will, beyond doubt, receive a big entry list. All of these stakes, it will be observed, are on the added money system. The Diamond, Sapphire, Emerald, Pearl, Garnet and Gem are all for two-year-olds, and DAILY RACING FORM does not hesitate in advising Chicago owners of promising youngsters to essay the capture of these valuable Cincinnati jewels.

MEMPHIS DERBY ACCEPTANCES.

A telegram from Secretary M. M. McFarlan says second payment has been made in the Memphis Derby for Eitholin, Bequeath, Libation, Bannockburn, Isabey, Swango, Goodrich, Johnny Bohon, Gallivant, Jackanapes, Chang, Druggist, Lieber Karl, Wilson, Sacket and Our Friend, so to this band of sixteen will be left the decision of the first really important 3-year-old event of the western turf campaign of 1898. Last year but three started for the Derby, Buckvidere winning, with Typhoon II, second and Algol third. This year a larger field is in prospect with Lieber Karl, Bannockburn, Isabey and Gallivant apparently the best of the lot left in.

BEWARE OF THOMPSON.

There's a fellow named W. H. Thompson operating as a telegraphic tout, as "Owner, P. O. box 500, Elkton, Maryland"—his own address is P. O. box 245—against whom the racing public needs protection. His general ways are rough and his methods devious. Thompson, or whoever he is, advertises, on credit, to give "known," "inside," "private" and "cheating" information for "the price" in advance. He collects from the public and doesn't pay his own bills. Such people as Thompson will not do and should be avoided. This information is printed solely for the benefit of the people who read DAILY RACING FORM.

Pat Morrissey could not have lost, properly handled. Easter Eve quit to nothing in the stretch. Kalitan and Fred Barr, off poorly, never had chances.

Winner—Ch. f, by Salvador—Chimera.
Start fair. Won after a hard drive by five horses. Sardou was luckiest and well ridden. Claudiana was best but had poor luck. She was cut off on the first turn and in the back stretch. Was closing strong at the finish. Rafaela was short, yet closed a lot of ground. La Fontera, poorly ridden, is ready and can be watched. Diabolo was similarly handled, yet closed strong. The others were outclassed.

Time, 2:5, 5:04, 1:02, 1:15.

Winner—B. c, 3, by Burlington—Ella Blackburn.

Start good. There was a clinking contest of six horses at the end. Perhaps Benamela was the best. He was shut off at start and on the first turn and in the back stretch and made up a lot of ground. Daily Racing Form ran a high-class, honest race. Gray rode him beautifully. He was lucky, yet finished like a lion. Watch Hermoso. He ran his race. Novia had even a rougher journey than Benamela. She was vily ridden. The filly is ready. Glenower favors a route and from a slow beginning made up much ground. The Wheel is but a sprinter. R. Q. Ban is game, but seemed short again. Watch him. Valenciennne ran her race. She favors soft going. The others were outclassed.
Scratched—Veragua, 105.

Winner—B. c, 4, by St. Carlo—Royal Bess.
Start bad. Won in a hard drive. Zamar hadn't an ounce to spare at the end. He had clear sailing and was away flying. Mainstay was far the best and should have won. The Ball gave Zamar a stern argument and then went to pieces in the stretch. Morinel crossed her feet and fell in the starting break. Midlight and Hardly might as well have been left.

Winner—Ch. g, 5, by Judge Murray—Spinster.
Start good. Won in a hard drive. The first two outclassed the field. The Bachelor was a bit short. He was best, is good and favors a distance. So does Tulare. She's good, too. This race should key her to concert pitch. Tab her. Climate ran his race. He is a dullard. Watch him for the timber. Cripple and Rufaba tired and stopped at the end. Nonchalance is only worth consideration in the mud.
